

JANUARY 1984

at Sheila's "bachelor pad"

They began talking into the wee hours and discovered they had many vices in common; both were fans of rampant coffee drinking, cigarette smoking, dope smoking, old clothes and metaphysical speculations on the Universe.

Even more similar interests and affinities were to become apparent LATER, as the WEIRD CURVE continued its serpentine unfolding.....